RAILROAD STRIKE DANGER HALTS FURTHER MOVEMENT OF GUARDSMEN TO BORDER

Meanwhile Officials are Said to Have Accepted the 8-Hour Day.

ENTRAINING ORDERS SUSPENDED

Troops of Kentucky, Ohio and Vermont Will Not Leave, Nor Will Any Other Soldiers Be Sent Away Until Crisis Is Past; Situation Tense.

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—After the committee of railroad managers had another conference with President Wilson today it became known that a proposal was under consideration by which the railroads would accept the principle of an eight-hour day and leave the working out of its application to the Interstate Commerce Commission or some body formed for the purpose.

The managers' committee left the White House by a side door, Ellsha Lee, the chairman, said.

"We are entirely in the President's hands and have agreed with him that he will make any statement."

The railroads are understood to be ready to concede the principle of the eight-hour day providing concessions be made by the employees so as to leave a burden will not be placed upon the carriers.

The men take the stand that they principally want the eight-hour day on condition that it shall be enforced whenever possible.

The railroads are said to believe it impossible to accept the eight-hour day unless a workable system of application can be built up. Members of the managers' committee said they had no plans for the future and did not know whether they would be called to the White House again.

The managers took the position that the eight-hour day and the collateral issues are inseparable and that it would not be practicable to accept the eight-hour day and submit the other questions to arbitration. All of the issues are interwoven, they contend, and must be decided together.

It was probable, one of the officials said, that if such a proposition were submitted to them through the president today, that they would return to New York and place it before the general board.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Orders for the remaining mobilized units of the national guard to proceed to the border have been suspended by the War Department. No official explanation has been made, but it is known that the delay of the railroad strike situation has been the moving consideration.

The suspension of the order, which would have moved 25,000 men to the border, should not be taken as an indication that the President's negotiations with the railroad brotherhoods and the railroad managers have taken an unfavorable turn, but is a measure of caution. It is considered highly undesirable that all the remaining guardsmen should be moved in the border while there was a possibility of a railroad strike in which they might be called upon to preserve order. There is even the possibility that some of the troops might be called upon to guard or operate mail trains and trains supplying the troops already on the border.

The suspension of the order prevents the immediate movement of troops from Kentucky, Ohio and Vermont, and the movement of all other mobilized troops which were to have gone forward as soon as they were equipped.

It is clear that the suspension is not a revocation of the order and if the railroad strike clears up, the troops will be moved to the border line.

The official explanation of the change is that difficulties of transportation and equipment suddenly developed and made a delay necessary. It is known, however, that the railway situation is the real cause.

WRECK IS FATAL

Three Killed and Three Badly Hurt on the B. & O.

By Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 15.—Three trainmen were killed, three seriously injured and four slightly hurt when two heavy freight trains each drawn by two engines came together in a head-on collision on the Pittsburgh & Wheeling division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Tiedusport, Pa., early today. All traffic was tied up for several hours.

The dead were J. E. Hestley, engineer, C. D. Hutchinson and C. L. Wright, firemen, all of Pittsburgh.

HURT BY SEVENTH CAR

Laborer Injured When Engine Bumps a Coupler on Hill.

Tony Gossow, a laborer for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, was admitted to the Cottage State Hospital this morning. An engine bumped into a car under which Gossow was working, causing a coupler to fall on his head. His injuries are not serious.

Mrs. Della Hachman of Vancora Mill, 41 years, is at the hospital for surgical treatment.

Automobiles Collide

Two Machines Come Together at Trotter and Girl Is Hurt.

A Maxwell automobile driven by Charles Shallenberger of Vanderhill, and an Empire machine driven by Hugh Lytle of Connellsville collided at the Trotter bridge about 1:30 o'clock last evening. Both machines were badly damaged and Miss Mary Plantagan of Connellsville, an occupant of Lytle's car, suffered a cut over the eye. Several other girls had a narrow escape.

Shallenberger was coming toward Connellsville while Lytle was bound in the opposite direction. They came together on the narrow bridge.

PLAGUE GAINS AGAIN

Big Increase in Infantile Paralysis Cases Reported in N. Y.

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—The epidemic of infantile paralysis has taken a turn for the worse despite the continuation of unusual cool weather. During the 24 hours ending at 10 A. M. today, 163 new cases of the disease and 32 deaths were reported to the health department. This is an increase in new cases of nearly 100 per cent over yesterday's figures, which showed 96 were stricken with the plague and 31 killed.

Failure of physicians to report cases over the Sunday holiday was suggested as a reason for the increase in today's figures.

Since the epidemic began there have been 6,522 cases and 1,453 deaths.

FLURRY IN WHEAT

December Options Advance 8 Cents on Strength of Crop Reports.

By Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—The wheat market made another sensational advance on the strength of crop damage reports today. December options 40 minutes before the close had advanced an extreme eight cents to $1.46 per bushel. September, less active, rose from $1.25, where it started early in the day, to $1.42.

The advance began with a statement that the latest reports showed the recent government report which put prices at 11 cents a few days ago and had exaggerated crop damage. On top of this came a statement by the Manitoba minister of agriculture that the damage was worse than had been previously reported.

WANT A BRIDGE

Fayette City Residents Petition Span Across Monongahela.

Another inter-county bridge is proposed by the residents of the Monongahela valley. This morning a petition was presented in court by attorneys Harry W. Hyne, signed by residents of Fayette City and vicinity, requesting the appointment of a view to pass upon the desirability of constructing a bridge over the Monongahela river between Fayette City on the Fayette county side and Allentown on the Washington county side. Judge E. H. Ruppert designated L. H. Landwehr, Fred D. Munson and H. B. Gauss as viewers.

A similar petition signed by the residents of Allentown and vicinity was presented in the Washington county court at the same time. The two boards of viewers will meet on the premises at a date not yet fixed.

Coroner Notified of Another Victim in Johnstown Accident.

By Associated Press

JOHNSTOWN, Aug. 15.—The number of dead in the trolley accident at Echo last Saturday was today increased to 27 when it was reported to the coroner that Mrs. Hannah Rager of South Fork was instantly killed and her body removed without delay.

The funerals of 10 victims were held today from the United Evangelical Church at Tanneryville, and of five others from churches in nearby towns. All the persons buried at Tanneryville were relatives. Four of the injured in hospitals here are said to be in a serious condition and their recovery was not expected.

W. P. T. SOLD

Former Gould Property Is Taken Over by Bondholders.

By Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 15.—The Washington Terminal Railway Company was sold today by the special master, William H. McClurg, to the reorganization committee of the first mortgage bondholders for $3,000,000.

The road has been advertised a number of times, but each sale was postponed because of the lack of bidders. Recently Judge Charles in the United States circuit court here reduced the upset price from $6,000,000 to the price at which it was finally sold. There was but one bid.

ONE MAN RUN OVER; HUCKSTER'S WAGON IS BADLY WRECKED

Two Serious Railroad Accidents Occur Near Dawson.

DRY HILL BOY LOSES LEGS

Is Run Over by a Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Shifter; Connellsville Huckster's Wagon Is Struck by No. 48 on the B. & O. at Bad Crossing.

Two bad railroad accidents in the vicinity of Dawson this morning caused perhaps fatal injury to one man and severe injuries to another. Arthur Keefer, 18, of Dry Hill, had both legs amputated at Cottage State Hospital after he was mangled under wheels of a Pittsburgh & Lake Erie yard engine about 4:30 o'clock. His condition is serious.

Louis Mart, 30, of Connellsville, was cut above the right eye, and has severe bruises and contusions of body, suffered when Tralu 48 struck a wagon on the B. & O. at Dawson about 8:20 o'clock.

Keefer is said to have been asleep on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie tracks when the yard shifter came along. Both legs were cut off and he suffered severely from loss of blood and shock. His condition was reported to be serious at the Cottage State Hospital, following an operation.

Mart, a huckster, had a narrow escape from death at the Grisco street crossing over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Dawson about 8:20 o'clock this morning. He was driving his team across when passenger train No. 18, due in Connellsville at 8:35 came along. The pilot of the engine struck the wagon in such a manner as to leave the horse, which escaped unhurt. Mart was thrown onto the pilot of the locomotive and carried together with the remains of his wagon for about a block before the train stopped. He was brought to the Cottage State Hospital on board the train. The train was approaching the station and running at reduced speed.

The President probably will remain at Long Branch until he leaves for Hot Springs, Ky., to speak September 4 at the Lincoln ceremony.

HUGHES ATTACKS TARIFF POLICY OF DEMOCRATIC PARTY; UNSAFE, HE SAYS

Special to The Courier.

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 15.—Charles E. Hughes last night told an audience in Spokane's Stadium that the proposed Democratic legislation against the dumping of foreign-made goods in this country after the war was not worth the paper on which it was written.

Mr. Hughes read a synopsis of the proposed legislation. The Democratic party, he said, was not equal to the task of protecting American industries by a tariff.

"If you want to see what they are equal to," he said, "read the anti-dumping clause they have put in the revenue bill."

"I shall not read it in full. You would need to sit down and put a towel around your head, get down close to it, and study it, read it over again and again and then you would be puzzled to know what it meant. If you found out what it meant you would agree with me that it was obviously ineffective and would not work."

Mr. Hughes devoted his attention almost exclusively at the night meeting to a discussion of the tariff. At an earlier meeting he addressed his first audience exclusively of women voters and in an address at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, at noon, answered the charge that he lacked constructive policy.

In the discussion of the tariff he declared that the Democratic party claimed credit for the "great prosperity" the country is enjoying today.

"They seem to think," he said, "that the American people are so lacking in intelligence that they do not know the sources of that prosperity."

"Our opponents proposed four years ago to reduce the cost of living. They said what was necessary was to re-

JUST 19 ON THE WEST SIDE GET GARBAGE MOVED

Statistics submitted to council last night by Director of Safety M. B. Pryce show that the West Side has just 19 people who pay for garbage collection service.

The garbage company has two hotels, seven stores and 10 private families enrolled on its books as customers. The councilmen naturally wonder what the other 581 or more families do with their household refuse.

ITALIAN WARSHIP LOST; 300 KILLED

The Leonardo da Vinci Catches Fire and Blows Up; Russian Drive Continues.

By Associated Press

PARIS, Aug. 15.—The Italian dreadnought Leonardo da Vinci caught fire and blew up in the harbor of Taranto, Italy, and three hundred of her crew were drowned, says a Turin dispatch. The date of the disaster is given only as a day in August.

The fire, says the dispatch, was discovered in the ship's kitchen and spread rapidly. The captain immediately ordered the magazines flooded and tried to beach the battleship, but one magazine exploded. The vessel was turned over on her side and a large number of the crew thrown into the sea.

It is believed the ship can be righted and refloated.

HEAVY FIGHTING ON

PITROGRAD, Aug. 15.—The rapid Russian advance in Galicia continues. Russian troops are crossing to the western bank of the Zela-Lipa and are advancing along the upper Stripa, the war office announced today.

ROME, Aug. 15.—On the Corso plateau and to the east of Gorizia along the Isonzo front the Austrians have suffered further reverses at the hands of the Italians, today's official statement says. Austrian entrenchments in both regions were captured.

PARIS, Aug. 15.—French troops captured German trenches on a front about 300 yards long and 100 yards deep north of the chapel of Sainte Fine at the intersection of the Fleury and the Vaux roads on the right bank of the Meuse, in the Verdun sector last night, says the war office today. On the Somme front the French artillery was very active. Elsewhere the night was calm.

BERLIN, via London, Aug. 15.—Austro-German troops under General Count von Bothmer are offering determined resistance to the Russian advance along the upper Stripa in Northern Galicia. They have completely repulsed strong attacks in the Zborov-Komelny sector, according to the official statement of the war office today.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—Nearly all of the remaining trenches northwest of Pozieres on the Somme front in which the Germans gained a footing on Sunday have been retaken, the war office announced today.

BERLIN, via London, Aug. 15.—Having returned from the Somme region, Emperor William has gone to the eastern front.

The doctor cited an instance on the West Side where a member of the family of E. E. Henderson had walked down from Ninth street to Eighth street to beg the garbage man to haul away a collection of refuse from the premises, but notwithstanding this the garbage was not taken away. Mr. Henderson had paid his bill in advance, the doctor told council.

Dr. Ute declared that he had always been a customer of the company, but that on a recent occasion he had to call up for 15 days before he could get his garbage taken away. He gave the names of hand of Dr. G. W. Gallagher, the West Side Hotel, Tony Roberts and E. E. Henderson as some who had filed complaints of poor service.

Health Officer Lietzel had previously appeared before council and told of the failure of the garbage company to make collections. Inasmuch as the State Commissioner of Health, Dr. Samuel G. Dixon had instructed the city to start a cleanup to prevent disease epidemics, he said something must be done.

It was decided to adjourn until tonight, when members of the Board of Health, the garbage contractors and councilmen will thresh the matter out.

On top of the garbage difficulty came a letter from Dr. S. C. Dixon, state health commissioner, calling the council's attention that it had not lived up to its promise to keep the state informed as to what progress was being made toward building a sewage disposal plant. He directed the city to furnish reports on sewer extensions and to indicate what has been done toward securing a site for the disposal plant.

"He'll put us all in jail, yet," Mayor Marietta commented.

Solicitor E. C. Higbee replied that he could not do that, but he could impose a fine of $50 a day for failure to go ahead with the sewage disposal plant. He advised that council take some action in that direction to keep the commissioner of health in a good humor.

Plans for a big storm sewer in the Third ward to take care of surface drainage on the hill from Francis avenue down, and for another sewer on the South Side to take care of that section where the present sewers cannot take care of the rush of water after a severe storm, were outlined to council by Mr. Duggan. An inspection of the city to see what is to be done was planned by Mr. Duggan, for tomorrow afternoon. It was indicated that inasmuch as the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio railroads would benefit by such sewers, they might be induced to bear a portion of the expense by furnishing pipe or other materials.

COUNCIL MEETS TONIGHT TO ACT ABOUT GARBAGE

Special Session Will be Held to Consider Existing Problem.

URGENT COMPLAINTS ARE FILED

President of Board of Health Declares Only 400 Families Subscribe to Collection Service, and Most of These Neglected; Dr. Dixon Busy.

Council will meet in special session tonight to "do something" to remedy the poor collection of garbage, of which there has been such general complaint recently. It was generally admitted that some way of remedying the condition must be found. In the meantime the garbage company has inaugurated a new plan, that of working one team at night to collect in the residence sections, while two teams are worked in the daytime in the business section.

The suggestion originally advanced in The Courier that garbage collection be undertaken by motor trucks during the night and early morning hours met with favor of the councilmen.

Both Health Officer George Heier and President of the Board of Health Dr. C. W. Ute told council how bad the garbage service is. Dr. Ute declared that an average of 25 complaints of failure to collect garbage came to his office in a day.

"The sanitary condition of Connellsville has never been worse than it is at present," declared Dr. Ute, "and it must be remedied. If we can't get redress from council we'll have to look elsewhere for it."

In response to a query by Solicitor E. C. Higbee as to what was the board's plan of how to get at the matter, Dr. Ute said that the only thing he could see to do was to revoke the present contract and have the city undertake the collection itself.

Director of Public Safety M. B. Pryce declared that there are only 600 people in the city willing to pay for garbage service. The other 2,500 or more do not pay, yet their garbage is disposed of in some way. Dr. Ute replied that the board always had trouble with these 2,500 who were willing to get rid of their refuse in any way possible without paying for it, but that recently the complaints had been coming from the other 600 who were willing to pay for the service, but could not get it.

The doctor cited an instance on the West Side where a member of the family of E. E. Henderson had walked down from Ninth street to Eighth street to beg the garbage man to haul away a collection of refuse from the premises, but notwithstanding this the garbage was not taken away. FIRE PREVENTION WEEK ENDORSED Council Approves Program of Volunteer Fire Department for Series of Demonstrations.

Council's endorsement of a plan of the New Haven Fire Company to hold a "Fire Prevention Week," September 1, 5, 6 and 7 was given last night after Jess Cypher had outlined tentative plans for the celebration.

The idea was originally conceived by Director of Safety M. B. Pryce and turned over to the firemen to work out. It will be conducted in conjunction with the National Society for Fire Prevention, which will send speakers and advertising literature to assist in making it a big success.

The firemen plan to turn one day over to visiting firemen who will come here with their apparatus and demonstrate modern means of fire fighting. Connellsville, with two new motor driven trucks and one up-to-date and truck, will take a leading part in this. One day will be given over to the Auto Club for a demonstration and another to the business men. There will also be amusement features connected with it.

SOLDIER IS HERE

Corporal Mays Comes to Town Seeking Army Recruits.

Corporal Henry Mays, attached to the United States Army recruiting station at Uniontown, was in Connellsville today distributing literature telling of the joys of life in the regular army. He reports that recruiting is brisk at the county seat, 15 men having been accepted and sent to various army posts in the last month and six more having been accepted up to the present time.

The Uniontown office is in charge of Sergeant Harry Fellows. The latter remains at the office while Corporal Mays tours the county with advertising matter.

The recruiting officers do not accept men for the national guard. This is supposed to be done by second, third and fourth class postmasters, who may recommend applicants. For all those accepted, the postmasters receive $5.

"We don't get anything but our pay for these we enlist," laughed Sergeant Mays.

Captain Herwick stated that the bandages were greatly appreciated and were worn by every man.

SOLID PAVED ROAD TO UNIONTOWN BY FALL IS PROMISE

County Engineer Predicts That Present Work Will Soon be Done.

GOOD PROGRESS AT LEISNERING

Adjustment of Difference Between West Penn and a Property Owner Will Clear Way for Completion of Contractor Duggan's Concrete Work.

A solid paved road between Connellsville and Uniontown will be an assured fact before winter sets in, according to the prediction of County Engineer Wilbur Dunn, who today was inspecting the concrete road Contractor John Duggan is building between Leisenring No. 1 and Puchner's. Duggan has about 1,500 feet to complete, and is being held back on a portion of it by the West Penn, which must move its tracks, but has not as yet reached an agreement for a right of way from David Long of the West Side, who owns the property. It is expected that this matter will be concluded in a few days, when the West Penn will start its work.

As the concrete is being laid at the rate of 300 feet a day, the job could be completed in five days, if the night of day were clear. After it is laid, 21 days are allowed in which it is to set, so it probably will be a couple of months before this stretch is opened to the traveling public. County Engineer Dunn stated that every effort was being made to hurry the work along.

The completion of this paving will give a solid paved road from Connellsville to the Work farm, near Leisenring No. 2. From the Work farm into Butte, or Leisenring No. 2, North Union township has for the past year been working on a brick road. The county engineer is confident that this work will be completed before winter sets in. Being a township road, it is not under his jurisdiction. With these two contracts completed, there will remain only a few hundred yards between the ovens at Leisenring No. 2 and the paved road out from Uniontown remaining to be improved and the North Union township supervisors have already advertised for bids on a concrete road over this distance. It will probably be let in time to be completed this fall.

Automobilists are anxious for these contracts to be completed. The heavy rains have badly washed the old Uniontown place, which is reached by way of Logan's Crossing. That road is now in unsatisfactory shape. Although it is not so bad in dry weather, it is very slippery during and after a rain. A paved road to Uniontown would mean an outlet to the south which would give automobilists a

NEW AND SIMPLE GAS DETECTOR FOR FOR USE IN MINES

The Invention of Engineer
Burrell of Bureau of Mines.

RESULT OF MANY YEARS' WORK

Operates on a Different Principle from the Ordinary Safety Lamp; It Measures and Accurately Indicates Percentage of Gas in Main Air.

A new gas testing device has been developed by G. A. Burrell of the Bureau of Mines, Pittsburgh, that is claimed to be the first reliable, simple, accurate gas detector for use in mines and other places. It is the result of years of tedious experimentation by the inventor and has been thoroughly tried under practical conditions. One was in active use in public rescuers at the Cleveland tunnel, where a disastrous gas explosion recently occurred. It worked so perfectly at that place that the chief chemist of the city of Cleveland made a special trip to Pittsburgh to obtain another one for his personal use.

The instrument is made of metal, weighs only 1½ pounds and a test of explosive gas can be made in less than two minutes with great accuracy.

One of the biggest problems in coal mining has to do with the control of dangerous explosive gases. For years the mining industry has depended upon the miner's safety lamp, invented by Sir Humphrey Davy, an eminent English chemist, two years ago. This instrument, one of the greatest practical achievements of the eminent Davy, has served its purpose well, and the lives and property saved through its use are incalculable, but there has long been felt the urgent need of a more accurate instrument, and hundreds of scientists the world over have devoted time to solving the problem without much success; hence the work of the Bureau of Mines in giving the mining public a satisfactory device is one of its great achievements.

The instrument is made of brass, except for a stout glass gauge. To make a test of gas one blows into the instrument through a rubber tube, thereby changing the water levels in the instrument; then allows the water levels to seek their former position. This operation draws a sample of gas into the device. Next electrical connection is made with a miner's electric lamp and the gas sample is heated for two minutes. At the end of this time the current is turned off and the instrument given a shake, whereupon the water level falls in the glass tube to a point opposite the scale that shows the percentage of explosive gas in the air.

The Bureau of Mines has just recently completed the last refinements having to do with the apparatus. It enhances immeasurably the usefulness of the miner's electric lamp in that it provides it with a gas detector, something it does not now have.

In developing this gas detector Engineer Burrell was assisted by many members of the staff of the Bureau of Mines, chief of whom were G. A. Hufelt, O. P. Hood, P. E. Woodman, W. F. Hausman and H. K. Clark.

TANLAC STORIES FROM PITTSBURGH REALLY AMAZING

Harry Sellers, Well Known
Railroad Man, Praises Remedy Highly.

Tanlac, the celebrated new preparation that is now being introduced for the first time here, is the most successful proprietary medicine ever before distributed in America. In 30 states of the Union, millions of residents are now taking the newest medicine and expressing an abiding faith in its remarkable powers over stomach, liver, kidney and catarrhal affections.

The astonishing success of Tanlac in Pittsburgh, where it is making the record-breaking sales of more than 1,000 bottles a week, is a striking example of the enormous demand for the premier preparation. Pittsburgh, too, is known the world over for its conservative citizens and only unusual merit can bring forth such high approval from her residents.

The stories of Tanlac's success in Pittsburgh are amazing. Scores of merchants, bankers, professional men, manufacturers and the highest class of mechanics and laborers, as well as innumerable women, have come forward to recommend Tanlac for what it has done for them.

Harry C. Sellers, who has been train called at the Pennsylvania railroad station in Pittsburgh for 25 years, who is known to almost every man, woman and child in Western Pennsylvania, says:

"I have suffered for the past 10 years with stomach troubles. At times it was so painful that I could hardly stand it.

"I decided to try Tanlac, and I must now say that Tanlac has certainly surprised me. The soreness was all gone out of my stomach. I now enjoy my meals and feel fine. I am going to continue taking Tanlac, as I feel sure that I have, at last, found what I need to cure me completely and permanently. I can sincerely recommend Tanlac and I hope all my friends who are now suffering as I was, will give it a trial, for I believe it will help them, too."

Tanlac, the "Master Medicine," referred to, is now sold here by the Conneautville Drug Company, where it can be had.

Tanlac can also be secured in Dunbar at D. C. Carson's Drug Store.—Adv.

"Non Dieu! No! An officer of Fort St. Louis!"

I could see the white man thrust aside the Indian circle, and strike through. His face was invisible, although I was upon my knees now, but he was a short, heavily built fellow.

"Stand back! ay, make room. Saint Gules, we are fighting our own friends. If you are of the garrison, name your-

"D'Artigny, still clapping his rifle barrel, reached out his other hand, and lifted me to my feet.

"Forchance," he said coolly, "if I were a stickler for etiquette, I might ask you first for some explanation of this attack. However, we have made some heads ring, so I waive that privilege. I am the Sieur d'Artigny, a lieutenant of La Salle."

"Non Dieu!" the other stepped forward, his hand outstretched. "This is an unknown name to me, although we have never before met by some chance—I am Francois de la Forest."

"La Forest! You were in France three months ago."

"Ay, I was, there when Sieur de la Salle landed. He told me the whole tale. I was with him when he had audience with Louis. I am here now."

"Tis a Good Fight So Far; Would You Have More of It?"

bearing the orders of the king, countermanded by La Salle at Quebec, restoring De Tonty to command at Fort St. Louis, and bidding the Baugle and that fool Cassion return to New France."

"D'Artigny crushed the man's hand in both his, dropping the rifle barrel to the ground. His voice trembled as he made answer.

"He won the king's favor? he convinced Louis?"

"No doubt of that—never saw I a greater miracle."

"And Sieur de la Salle—has he returned?"

"Nay; he remains in France, to sit out an expedition to sail for the mouth of the great river. He hath special commission from the king. To me was given the honor of bearing his message. Ah! but La Salle raved like a mad bull when I banded him the king's order. I thought he would burst a blood vessel, and give us a new governor. But no such luck. But I stood there, struggling to keep a straight face, for he had no choice but obey."

"Twas a hard dose to swallow, but there was Louis' orders in his own hand all duly sealed; and a command that I be dispatched hither with the message."

"How made you the journey in so short a time?"

"Overland from Detroit, the same trail you traveled with La Salle; 'tis much the shorter."

"Alone?"

"With two couriers du bois; they are with me now. But what is this, D'Artigny, you have with you—a woman?"

CHAPTER XXIV.

Warriors of the Illini.

"Yes, M. de la Forest," I said, stepping forward to save Rene from a question which would embarrass him. "I am the daughter of Captain la Ches-name, whom the Sieur d'Artigny hath taken under his protection."

"La Chesnaye's daughter! Ah, I heard the story told in Quebec—twice. La Salle's old who gave me the facts with many a chuckle, as though he held it an excellent joke. But why are you here, madame? Is not M. Cassion in the fort yonder?"

"Tis a long tale, La Forest," broke in D'Artigny, laying his hand on the other's shoulder, "and will bide a better time for telling. I am a soldier, and you may trust my word. We are La Salle's men; let it go at that, for there is graver duty fronting us now than the retelling of camp gossip. Madame is my friend, and my hand will defend her reputation. Is that enough, comrade?"

"Ay, enough. My best regards, madame, and he bowed low before me, his words ringing true. "Wherever Sieur de la Salle has learned to trust hath my faith also. You have come from the fort, I take it, D'Artigny? How are matters there?"

"Ill enough; the officers at sword's points, and the men divided into three camps, for where De la Durantaya stands there is no evidence. M. Cassion holds command by virtue of La Salle's commission, and knows no more of Indian war than a Quebec storekeeper. The garrison numbers fifty men, all told; two-thirds soldiers, and a poor lot."

"With ammunition and food?"

"Ample to eat, but Bohemond tells me with scarce a dozen rounds per man. The Iroquois are at the gates, and will attack at daylight."

"You know this?"

"The signs are plain. We passed one party clambering up the cliff—no less than fifty warriors, armed and painted for war. Tuscaroras, madame, said from the words she overheard as they slipped past where we hid. 'Tis not likely they made reconnaissance alone. The Iroquois have been a week in this valley, and have swept all clear of our Indian allies; now they can bring their full force against the fort."

"No doubt you are right."

"Twas my judgment, at least, and we sought help when we ran into you. What Indians have you?"

"Illat, mostly, with a handful of Miami and Chickasaw. We met them at the crossing, hiding in the hills. They were badly demoralized, and fled with horror at what they had seen, yet agreed to return here under my leadership."

"Who is their chief?"

"Old Squintab—you know him?"

"Ay, a real warrior. 'Tis better than I dared hope, for I have been in battle with him before. Do you number a hundred?"

"And fifty more, though indifferently armed."

"And fifty more, though indifferently armed. Never have I seen the Illini in action, D'Artigny; they seem to me a poor lot, so frightened of the wolves as to be valueless."

"So they are if left to themselves, but under white leadership they stiffen. They will fight if given the Indian style. They will never stand in defense, but if we lead them to a surprise, they'll give good account of themselves. That is my plan, La Forest—that we creep up through the woods behind the Iroquois lines. They will expect no attack from the rear, and will have no guard. If we move quickly while it remains dark, we ought to get within a few yards of the real demons without discovery. They will fight desperately, no doubt, for their only hope of escape would be to either plunge down the rocky banks on either side, or cut a way through. You have been at the fort?"

"Twice before."

"Then you know the nature of the ground. 'Tis all woodland until within a few hundred yards of the gates. You recall the great rock beside the trail?"

"Ay and the view from the top."

"My plan would be to creep up that far, with blanketing parties on the slopes below. In front, as you may remember, there is an open space, then a fringe of forest hiding the clearing before the stockade. The Iroquois will be gathered behind that fringe of trees waiting daylight. Is my thought right?"

"Tis the most likely spot."

"Then listen; I have thought this all out. You and I, with Squintab, will take a hundred of your Indians, cross the small river, and advance up the trail. That leaves fifty warriors to creep through the woods on either slope, twenty-five to a side, led by your two couriers du bois. We will wait at the great rock, and give the signal."

La Forest stood silent a moment, thinking, then rested his hand on D'Artigny's shoulder.

"It looks feasible enough, but the blanketing parties may not reach their position in time."

"The one from the west will not have as far to travel as we do. The other does not make so much difference, for if the Iroquois break they will come in this direction—the other side of the trail is sheer rock."

"And what about the lady?"

ARCH ST. PAVING WORK IS DELAYED; ORDINANCE ERROR

Council Finds It Necessary to Start New Measures.

NO PETITIONS WERE FILED

Several Streets are Reported Ready for Inspection and Viewers; Cottage Avenue Residents Reported Ready to Pay; Routine Matters Considered.

A mass of routine business came up for consideration at council meeting last night.

Inasmuch as the paving of Arch street is to be done without a petition of the property owner, the ordinance introduced and adopted several weeks ago was not effective. Three new measures providing for the paving of this long street in three sections were introduced and the clerk was instructed to notify property owners that a vote will be taken on them on September 18. It was intimated by Mr. Duggan that the West Penn might pay for a curb on the west side of the street as far as Green street in addition to the cost of paving between its tracks. Mayor Marietta suggested that the width of the paving south of Green street be not more than 22 feet.

A letter from the Lanes-Veech estate notified the city street department to discontinue dumping refuse on vacant lots of this estate.

Charles Wehe appeared before council and asked that something be done to reduce the assessment upon the Wehe Building in the First ward. He did not have opportunity to make a formal appeal, he said, because he arrived at the hearings after the First ward appeals had been disposed of.

Mrs. Ellen Triebner in a communication asked the city for damages and permanent relief from water which she claimed had been diverted from its natural course onto her property at Woodlawn avenue and South Arch street.

V. H. Soisson complained of a sewer on South Arch street which is not deep enough to drain his property.

Louis Pazzoli notified the city to retain $1,057 from his payment to Austin & Matthews for the Villa and east end of the North End, while "Baby" Adams tract. He stated that he had a claim against the contractors for the sum of $1,057 for work performed and damages sustained, for which he has entered suit.

Ordinances transferring funds from one appropriation to another were introduced as follows: $1,000 from Appropriation B, Department of Public Safety to Appropriation 17 of the same department, making the latter $2,600; $25 from Appropriation No. 2 to No. 1, thus increasing the sum available for transportation of prisoners to $50.

A sketch of the plan of lots in the Newmyer Addition known as Sherwood Place was submitted by P. T. Evans with the request that council adopt it.

Councilman Duggan reported that Isabella road and Washington avenue were ready for council's inspection, after which viewers may be asked to pass upon them and assess costs. Solicitor Hickey reported that the paving costs for all other newly paved streets except South Pittsburgh street were ready for collection. Apple street is also ready for the viewers. Engineer Fouquet reported that the assessments for the repaving of Pittsburgh street were ready to pay at once. Solicitor Hickey declared this would simplify paying collections a lot if the property owners would pay voluntarily. No viewers would then be required.

No detailed reports were submitted by any of the councilmen.

Members present were Messrs. John Duggan, L. L. West, James Gwynn, M. R. Pryce and Mayor Marietta.
